

THE TWILITE BROADCASTERS

The Twilite Broadcasters are the missing link between vintage country, old time, early bluegrass and rockabilly. Based in Asheville, North Carolina, the band creates traditional American music directly inspired by the likes of the Louvin Brothers and Bill Monroe. Close brother harmonies and deft switching between mandolin, fiddle, and guitar draw the listener backwards in time. Originally a duo, Adam Tanner (fiddle, mandolin, vocals) and Mark Jackson (guitar and vocals) have added the bass stylings of Chuck Shreve to the mix, livening up an already fiery live show.

Their 2011 album The Trail of Time (pictured) made a big splash in the Americana world, particularly in Europe where bloggers and DJs scrambled to pick up on the newcomers. Drawing comparisons to The Carolina Chocolate Drops, BR549, and the Chris Thile/Michael Daves duo, the Twilite Broadcasters combine exquisite musicianship and remarkable vocal harmonies with a fierce showmanship you won't soon forget.

PAST SHOWS

- Woodsongs Old Time Radio Hour, The Kentucky Theatre, Lexington KY
- Columbia City Theatre, Seattle WA
- McMenamins "Small Batch Tour" Hillsboro, Forest Grove and Troutdale Oregon
- Opera House, Shepherdstown WV
- The Grey Eagle, Asheville NC
- Pickin in Parsons Bluegrass and Hillbilly Music Festival, Parsons WV
- Art of Sound Festival, The Don Gibson Theatre, Shelby NC
- Redbone Willies Bluegrass Festival, Lawndale NC
- Acoustic Brew Concert Series, Lemont PA
- The Southgate House, Newport KY
- The WhiteHorse, Black Mtn NC
- Songs of The Mountain, PBS television
- The Lincoln Theatre, Marion VA

"Their harmonies and acoustic accompaniment are expertly crafted, and their reverence for the classic tunes of the Louvin, Monroe, & Delmore Brothers and others is undeniable." -Martin Anderson, Music Director, WNCW

"This band sticks close to the real roots of Americana." -No Depression Blog

"These guys embody everything genuine about old-time country, folk and bluegrass." -Stage Door Music Reviews

"A superior record. Heartbreaking, intensely beautiful and a pleasure for your ears." -Alt-Country Forum, Netherlands

